Haymaker Plans to File Investor Presentation and Post Prepared Remarks

(New York, NY) – November 1, 2018 - Haymaker Acquisition Corp. (NASDAQ: HYAC) (“Haymaker”), a publicly traded special purpose acquisition company, and OneSpaWorld (“OSW” or the “Company”), the pre-eminent global provider of health and wellness products and services onboard cruise ships and in destination resorts around the world, announced today that they, and certain other related parties, have entered into a definitive business combination agreement. Under the terms of the agreement, Haymaker and OSW will combine under a new holding company, OneSpaWorld Holdings Limited (“OSW Holdings”) which is expected to be listed on the Nasdaq Stock Market under the symbol “OSW.” OSW is being sold by Steiner Leisure Limited (“Steiner”), a portfolio company of L Catterton, the largest and most global consumer-focused private equity firm in the world.

Headquartered in Nassau, Bahamas, OSW is one of the largest health and wellness services companies in the world. OSW’s distinguished facilities and highly-trained and experienced staff offer guests a comprehensive suite of premium health, fitness, beauty, and wellness products and services onboard 161 cruise ships and at 66 destination resorts globally. For over 50 years, OSW’s leading market position has been built upon its incomparable expertise and broad suite of service offerings, proven track record of product innovation, expansive global platform for recruitment, training and logistics, and exceptional service standards.

Leonard Fluxman, Chairman of OSW, commented: “I am very excited that OSW is re-entering the public markets as a leader in global health and wellness services with an extensive track record of profitable growth and significant, visible expansion ahead. Combining with Haymaker and re-entering the public markets as a scaled, publicly-traded, pure-play operator of health and wellness facilities enhances our ability to deliver the world class service and innovation that our cruise line and resort partners have come to expect from our organization while driving long-term value creation for our shareholders.”

Highlights of the proposed transaction:

- OSW curates and delivers an unrivaled offering of the most innovative health and wellness products, technologies and services onboard 161 cruise ships and at 66 destination resorts around the world.
- OSW benefits from the highly dependable and predictable growth of the global cruise industry. Industry tailwinds, including significant investment and strong consumer demand, have driven 20 years of consecutive passenger growth, even through the recession of 2008, with 25+ million cruisers worldwide in 2017. Cruise Industry News projects continued momentum, with berths growing at a 5.6% CAGR, from approximately 535,000 in 2017 to 704,000 through 2022.
- With over 80% market share in the highly attractive outsourced maritime health and wellness market, OSW is 10x the size of its closest competitor. OSW's leading market position is the result of decades-long relationships with its cruise partners, a history of investment in infrastructure and training, and a reputation for offering passengers a best-in-class wellness experience.
- OSW benefits from exceptional after-tax cash flow conversion. OSW maintains a unique asset-lite business model with annual capital expenditures approximating 1% of revenue, and a sustainable low cash tax rate due to a majority of its profits being earned in low-tax and no-tax jurisdictions.
- OSW's growth is expected from planned new ship launches by current cruise line partners, increased market share via partnerships with new cruise lines, proven, technology-enabled onboard revenue growth initiatives, continued innovation and expansion of its service and product suite, and accelerating growth of its health and wellness facility footprint at destination resorts worldwide.
- The combined company will be led by OSW's current management team, which operated Steiner for nearly 20 years while it was a public company. OSW's Chairman, Leonard Fluxman, and CFO and COO, Stephen Lazarus, served as CEO and President and CFO and COO, respectively, of Steiner for more than 15 years. Mr. Fluxman, Mr. Lazarus, and the OSW's CEO since 2016, Glenn Fusfield, lead an internally-developed senior management team with over 150 years of combined industry experience. OSW will also benefit from Haymaker's investing and operational experience at Fortune 500 companies, particularly in the consumer and hospitality sectors.
- OSW expects to generate approximately $535 million in revenue and over $26 million in Pro Forma Adjusted Net Income¹ in 2018. For 2019, the Company forecasts revenue of over $570 million and approximately $33 million in Pro Forma Adjusted Net Income, reflecting over 23% growth in Pro Forma Adjusted Net Income.

¹ Pro Forma Adjusted Net Income includes interest expense Pro Forma for the capital structure at closing and incremental public company costs and excludes non-recurring expenses and amortization of intangibles. Refer to the disclaimer language at the end of this press release for more information regarding non-GAAP financial measures.

Details of the transaction:

Under the terms of the definitive business combination agreement, the transaction is valued at $948 million. The acquisition will be funded through a combination of cash in Haymaker's trust account, borrowings, and proceeds from a common stock private placement led by premier institutional investors including Franklin Templeton and Neuberger Berman. L Catterton will retain a significant equity stake in the combined company through its investment in Steiner.

Upon the closing of the proposed transaction, OSW's senior management will continue to serve in their current roles. Steven Heyer, CEO and Chairman of Haymaker, will assume the role of Vice Chairman. Andrew Heyer, President of Haymaker, and Marc Magliacano, a current member of Steiner's Board of Directors and Managing Partner of L Catterton's Flagship Buyout Fund, will serve as board members of the combined company.

Glenn Fusfield, CEO of OSW, commented: "As a global leader in health and wellness and one of the largest wellness center operators in the world, OSW has a global platform and infrastructure that provides a unique competitive advantage to manage the complexity required to service many of the largest brands in the cruise and hospitality industries. This transaction will allow OSW to continue to execute its global expansion plan, increase the strength and depth of relationships with our existing cruise partners, many of whom we have partnered with for over 20 years, as well as increase our resort spa footprint with hospitality partners."

Steven Heyer and Andrew Heyer commented: "We believe the acquisition of OSW is perfectly aligned with our objectives. OSW is a global consumer-growth business, they are a leader in an attractive industry with very compelling financial performance and, most importantly, a significant pipeline of opportunities for growth. We expect our operational expertise in the consumer and hospitality sectors combined with the talents of the management team to enable the ongoing company to accelerate its global expansion."

Marc Magliacano commented: "We are proud of the dramatic growth that OSW has achieved since we acquired Steiner Leisure in late 2015. Working with the OSW team, we have helped establish OSW as the undisputed global leader in the delivery of advanced and effective health and wellness services to guests in the maritime channel and have demonstrated significant success to our partners in the effort to increase wellness center revenues both on land and sea. As we re-enter the public markets as a pure-play health and wellness services operator with more capabilities and more differentiation than ever before, we are confident that OSW will continue to thrive and we look forward to participating in the Company's future success as a significant investor."

Charles Kantor, Neuberger Berman Portfolio Manager, commented: “As OSW maintains and grows its leading position in the global leisure market for health and wellness services, we look forward to providing our experienced public market perspectives to help further drive long-term value creation – particularly as it relates to capital allocation and corporate governance for this unique asset-lite business model.”

The respective boards of directors of both Haymaker and OSW have unanimously approved the proposed transaction. Completion of the proposed transaction is subject to approval of Haymaker stockholders and other customary closing conditions. The parties expect that the proposed transaction will be completed in early 2019.
